The research component of the proposed study has two parts. The first part is a study of the effects of interrupted and disrupted reading instruction on third grade children's acquisition of advanced reading skills. The study will determine the effects of different types of reading instruction on children's reading and writing skills at 1, 2, 3 and 4 years post- initial kindergarten reading assessment. The second part of the research project consists of an evaluation of the costs and benefits of a remedial reading program for children who have failed in early reading instruction. A large number of children in the United States have been identified as reading deficient, including 8-year-olds (Perkins, 1977). The research will determine the effectiveness of a remedial reading program, and a variety of home and school procedures which may be used to treat children who have failed in early reading instruction. The remedial program will include both direct instruction and multimedia instruction with different combinations of the two methods. The research project will also determine the degree to which home and school procedures affect children's performance in reading-related tasks. We have a l know these military members have a right to the things they need, they need to get this job done. But it is meant to protect the United States. In court, Samsung is arguing that it doesn't belong to the U.S. Military and has a right to its own patents. Whatever Samsung's lawyers want to say here, they are going to lose. They have a great chance of winning. Whether the U.S. Government will be forced to pay up with the government won't say until the trial comes to an end.
