people? If yes, we invite you to read our questions and answers to understand the format of our exams. 1. Do the preconditions for being successful in Mathematics or Statistics also apply to exams like CPA CE and others? Yes, everything is the same as for the CPA exams except for the case of the CPA M and CPA E exams. For those exams, you will be permitted to use the special calculator in order to solve certain problems, but it is not a substitute for paper-based exams. You will be able to have a calculator with you, but you will be asked to refrain from using it. 2. If an applicant is concerned that he/she is not familiar with a specific topic or problem, how does one plan to address this situation? We provide Practice Test Papers to help candidates better prepare. 3. Can you share your route to the CPA or other profession (marketing, business, accounting, real estate
